

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The research and the dissertation are finished with the tender care and careful guidance of my supervisor and I was deeply affected and inspired by his serious scientific attitude, rigorous scholarly research spirit and the work style of keeping on improving. My supervisor always gives me the careful guidance on my study, unremitting support from the selection of the subject to the final completion of the project and excellent care in thought and livelihood. Sincere gratitude and high respect are extended to my supervisor. I also want to express my thanks to teachers of Siam University , thanks for their help and share of knowledge. In addition, I am very grateful to my friends and classmates who give me their help and help me work out my problems during the difficult of the thesis. Last my thanks would go to my parents for their loving considerations in me all through these years, who have always been helping me out of difficulties and supporting without a word of complaint. Thank you so much!
