

Abstract

The objective of designing and developing Staff Support System is to improve performance. Since the old system couldn't respond any requirement of employee and manager. So researcher learned and developed this system and better performance. This project was start by collect are requirement from user. This project designed and developed by Eclipse neon.3 and MySQL 3.2.2 to manage database. The project was can manage check-in and check-out for employee , manage user profile , send leave application form. Which this project can respond any requirement of employee and manager in company and reduce vulnerabilities of system. This project supports multiple devices.

Keyword : Employee Data/Web Development/Java language

