

Acknowledgement

First of all, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Dr. Jomphong Mongkolvanich for his advisory and approval of this paper.

I would also like to thank my friends for giving me the ideas to write this paper, and to help me push it through the difficult times.

I would like to thank my family for the understanding and continuous support to accomplish this degree while working fulltime.

Lastly, I would like to thank Siam University for providing the opportunity to grow my professional knowledge and to learn in an international atmosphere, and my fellow students for the friendship and team works, without that, all these wouldn't have been possible.
